

Full Seasonal Plan

Dear Camper,

Thank you for reviewing this document that explains the Full Seasonal Plan. You can start a full seasonal agreement virtually any time during the camping season. If you elect to start your full seasonal agreement after April 1, your agreement price will be pro-rated for the time of your agreement dates. All full seasonal agreements end on December 31. All Full Seasonal Plan funds are non-transferrable (e.g. to another person or entity) and must be used in the camping season in which they are purchased. They cannot be carried over to future seasons. They expire on the last day of the camping season in which they were purchased.

Full Seasonal Plan

Overview

A Full Seasonal Plan generally runs from 4/1 through 12/31. However, it is possible to start a Full Seasonal Plan after 4/1. The primary difference between Full Seasonal and Partial Seasonal is that the Partial Seasonal Plan is meant to have a specific start and stop date during the camping season. Whereas Full Seasonal camping agreements have an end date of 12/31, with an option to continue into the next season either on the same or different campsite as the current year.

Example

The Jones' want to start a Full Seasonal Agreement beginning on 6/1/18. They have two adults on their agreement. They have chosen to include the Onsite Disposal Service as part of their agreement. The only other expense will be their electric use and any other products or services they purchase that are offered by the campground.

Below is the information necessary to provide them with the price of their agreement.
